

Whither protein crystallography ?

Schiltz M.

Laboratoire de Cristallographie, École Polytechnique Fédérale de Lausanne (EPFL), Switzerland

Protein single-crystal and powder diffraction are complementary techniques in many respects. Both have their intrinsic limitations and drawbacks. In this paper I will try to discuss the current status of both methods, examine possible areas of cross-fertilisation and venture into the future of protein crystallography.